My first pair of skates

My first skates I had were very nice and sharp. I went on the lake the second day I got them; but I could not stand on them and ~~they were very nice and very nice, very hilly~~ I could not get them on because I did not know how. They go all with now. One of my skates would not stay on and ~~they~~^{it} would go off my skate. I would run on the ground make them dull and would make me tumble over and sked my self. Then they went all right after while one time my skates and another boy were going to have a race and that boy that was going to race with me fell a little from and hurt him. His name was V. E. and he did not want to race my more. My skates do not go good now.
